RUSHFORD REPAYS LA CROSSE VISIT

MONSTER DELEGATION COMES TO FAIR TODAY

BRING FINE MILITARY BAND

Musical Organization Which Has Made Nearby City Famous Serenades La Crosse People.

Rushford today repaid in fine style the visit paid by La Crosse business people to that city during the Rushford fair, by sending a monster delegation to the Inter-State fair now in progress in this city.

The Rushford delegation all wore yellow badges and were much in evidence about the streets and at the fair grounds all during the day. They were accompanied by their famous military band of thirty-two pieces which serenaded The Tribune and other business institutions here. Their music is of a splendid variety and their playing was much appreciated about the city today.

The Rushford band is composed of the following: E. A. Lambert, leader; R. Milde, solo cornet; A. Knutson, first cornet; W. Blanchfield, first cornet; I. Purdy, second cornet; H. Larson, second cornet; A. Ronnenberg, second cornet; E. Sundberg, first trombone; M. Blanchfield, first

LABOR ATTACKS TAFT AS "INJUNCTION" MAN— GOMPERS' EDITORIAL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. — Organized labor, represented by the American Federation of Labor, today formally opened its campaign against Secretary of War Taft's presidential aspirations.

In the federation's official organ President Gompers prints a hot five-page editorial, headed "Taft, Injunction Standard Bearer." The article is based on Taft's decision in the boycott cases when he was a federal judge in Cincinnati and criticises his western discussions on labor. The editorial says:

"If Taft's contention were carried out every assemblage of workingman would be broken up, and all their agreements would be nullified. Taft is afraid he may ruffle the plume of the capitalists' power. He substantially assures them that if they support him he will turn over to them the workingman bound, hand and feet, shackled by injunctions."

ROOSEVELT ENDS HIS SUMMER VACATION

OYSTER BAY, Sept. 25.—President Roosevelt and his family ended their vaaction today, taking a train at 10 o'clock this morning for Washington. It had been raining all night, but when the villagers began to gather at the depot for the farewell the clouds began to part. When Roosevelt arrived in a wagon, he was given a rousing cheer. He shook hands for five minutes. In his party were Mrs. Roosevelt , Quentin, Ethel; Secretary Loeb and wife; Assistant Secretary Latta and wife.

Express cars carrying the president's horses and other property left an hour ahead of the party.

Whistles Greet Special.

The presidential party arrived at Long Island at 11 o'clock and at Jersey City an hour later. It was greeted by whistles on the trip around the lower end of Manhattan Island. The special arrives in Washington at 6 o'clock.

TAKE HORSE THIEF BACK TO HASTINGS

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—Sheriff McDevitt, of Hastings, Minn., arrived in this city today with a requisition from Governor Johnson, of Minesota, asking for the person of William Radke, now detained in the Milwaukee house of correction for burglary. Radke is a notorious horse thief who operated extensively in Southern Minnesota, and who broke jail both at Hastings and Owatonna.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Harry Dhernock today stabbed his wife, Mollie, and then jumped from a fourth story window of a flat. He died in a hospital and his wife's condition is critical. He is supposed to be insane.

RATE COMMISSION MAKES IMPORTANT RULING IN RATES

HIRSHHEIMER AND KURTENACKER GET TEMPORARY ORDER

RESTORES THE 25-CENT RATE

Local Jobbers' Union Appears in Madison This Morning to Oppose Package Rate Jump

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—As the result of a brief hearing held before the railroad rate commission this morning the commission has decided to issue an order practically restoring the 25 cent package rate, announcement of the increase of which to 40 cents recently created a sensation among the shippers.

A. Hirshheimer, president of the La Crosse Plow company, and Carl Kurtenacker, secretary of the John Gund Brewing company, appeared for the La Crosse Manufacturers' & Jobbers' union, and the order reducing the rate is the result of their arguments to the commissioners.

The order will direct the roads to re-establish the 25 cent package rate for shipments to be delivered over a single line within the state. It permits the charging of 40 cents for packages where tansfers are necessary.

Messrs. Hirshheimer and Kurtenacker expressed themselves as satisfied with this arrangement. They had declared to the committee that the general raise against which complaint is made was not equitable, and was a source of great embarrassment to the shippers of the state. As there are but two transfers in the state coming under the exception the commission will make in its order restoring the rate, the plan was deemed reasonable.

The commission announced that the order is but a temporary one, as the railroads are now engaged in formulating a uniform inter-railroad system of charging, which it will later submit to the commission. This system is intended to simplify the schedules on all freight of the class under discussion.

WON'T STAND FOR "THE COMMISSION"

Mrs. Sarah H. Larson, one of the heirs of Mrs. R. A. Clark, with whom the Chicago and Milwaukee seeks to settle the dispute over a piece of land on the river front for $75 by a commission award, stated this morning that she would not settle for that amount. Although she has not definitely decided what steps will be taken in the matter, if necessary she says she will take the case into the courts. The case will probably be taken up next week.

WILLIAM FUNK GOES INTO BANKRUPTCY

William F. Funk, son of M. Funk, and secretary of the La Crosse Boiler company, Gould and Sumner streets, today filed a petition in bankruptcy with Referee in Bankruptcy C. L. Baldwin. Funk gives his occupation as a mechanical engineer.

The petitioner gives his assets as $6,000, with liabilites of $60,000.

The signing of several thousand dollars worth of notes is blamed for the bankruptcy of Funk. He was a stockholder in the Mexican Plantation company, which he declares is insolvent. The claims against the Mexican Plantation company also are cited against Funk, because he was a stockholder.

DISPUTE OVER LAND TITLE.

To determine the title of land, claimed by Olaf Swennes and Carl Erecktrah, an action for trespass has been brought against Swennes by Drecktrah. The case was called in circuit court this afternoon, when the Huggins case went to the jury. The property in dispute is in the town of Barre.

Drecktrah asks $50 damages, because Swennes drove a team with a load of hay across the property on Nov. 29, 1906. When the case was called in justice court, it was appealed to the circuit court on affidavit by the attorneys for the defendant, Morris & Hartwell, that the title to the property is in dispute.

While the trespass nominally stands as the ground for complaint, the action is taken to establish ownership of the property.

MULAI HAFID, HALF BROTHER OF SULTAN ABDUL AZIZ, WHO HAS HAD HIMSELF PROCLAIMED RULER OF MOROCCO.

MULAI HAFID, pretender to the Moroccan throne, who was recently proclaimed sultan at Marakesh, has raised quite a formidable army and is a decided menace to the rule of Abdul Aziz. The real sultan's troops are none too loyal, and a plot to assassinate him was recently discovered in his own camp.

BADGER CONVICTED OF SLAYING ALLEGED DECEIVER

JURY RECOMMENDS LENIENCY

Unwritten Law Plea Helps Some, but Fails to Get Wealthy Antigo Lumberman Off

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The "unwritten law" scored a partial triumph in Judge Windes's court when Amasa C. Campbell, the wealthy Antigo, Wis., lumberman who killed Dr. Benjamin F. Harris because he believed Harris had wrecked his home, was found guilty.

The triumph of the "unwritten law" was not in the verdict of guilty but in the urgent plea of the jury that the court inflict the minimum penalty of one year on Campbell.

The procedure almost is unheard of in Cook county courts. In their report the jurors urged Judge Windes and the board of pardons to release Campbell at the end of one year.

The defense today petitioned for a new trial, and will use the jury's petition as part of its argument.

The verdict was the climax of a sensational shooting that took place in the Stock Exchange building last December. Campbell and his wife and Harris and his wife were mixed in the strange tangle of love and divorce, and the defense claimed that Campbell was goaded into an insane frenzy of jealousy by information furnished him mainly by Harris's divorced wife. The men met in a law office while a suit for divorce was being discussed, and Campbell shot Harris.

CUBS INVITE TEDDY TO POST-SEASON SERIES

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—President Charles Murphy, of the Cubs, has sent an invitation to President Roosevelt and his cabinet to attend the world championship post-season series in which the winning of the Cubs from Philadelphia yesterday makes them one of the contestants.

The defeat of Philadelphia by the Sox yesterday has created the belief that, as last year, the post-season championship will be between the two Chicago clubs.

LATTER KING OF THE THIEVES

Tried to Induce Governor Gooding to Go Into Scheme to Further Rob the State

BOISE, Sept. 25.—Senator Borah's trial is under way today with spectators expecting startling developments. The opening statement of Prosecutor Burch, in which he said the late Governor Steunenberg was the principal in land frauds, and that Borah was his counselor, was replete with sensations.

Burch said:

"In the early stages of the land frauds money was furnished by Barber and Moon, Wisconsin millionaire lumbermen. The state will show that Steunenberg tried to get Governor Gooding and other prominent men into the deal, but that Gooding refused; that at least one hundred dummy entrymen were used in carrying out the frauds."

Burch said the government will show that an effort was made to prevent Governor Gooding from selecting the best lands for the state by having 65 dummy settlers at the land office an hour before the state made its selections, each entryman having a map showing the claims he was going to file.

WOMEN WILL VOTE FOR CONGRESSMEN

SUFFRAGISTS DECLARE CONSTITUTION GIVES RIGHT

MEN HAVE DEFRAUDED 'EM

They Say Constitution Meant Women When it Said "The People," and Mere Man Cheated

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—Members of the Wisconsin Women Suffrage association, which closed their sessions here last evening, intend to hereafter vote for members of the national house of representatives.

One section of the United States constitution has been violated they claim, the one which gives the "people" power to elect congressmen, and they claim the states by an arbitrary rule have muzzled women's liberties, but now they demand their rights.

A resolution was passed at the meeting late yesterday afternoon which demands that congress give back to the people of the states the rights "guaranteed to us in the constitution of the United States."

With this resolution was another asking that the 16 amendment be added to the federal constitution giving to women suffrage rights.

The following officers were elected:

President—Rev. Olympia Brown, Racine.

Vice-president at large—Rev. Henrietta Lyman, Madison.

State Historian—Mrs. Jossie N. Luther, Madison.

First vice-president—Miss Vida James, Richland Center.

Second vice-president—Mrs. Madge Waters, Richland Center.

Chairman executive committee—Mrs. Etta Garner, Platteville.

Recording secretary—Miss W. Von Bruencheshain, Milwaukee.

Corresponding secretary—Mrs. B. Ostrander, Richland Center.

Treasurer—Miss Gwendlen Willis, Milwaukee.

LAYS DOWN PURSE, AND IT DISAPPEARS

A woman giving her name as Mrs. Knott, told the police this morning that she had lost her pocketbook containing $7 in cash and many other valuables.

Mrs. Knott was in the waiting room of the Milwaukee depot when the excursion train from Rushford came in. She says she laid her hand bag on the seat and went to the window and returning a few minutes later found the hand bag was gone. She at once notified the authorities, but as the waiting room was crowded no one was suspected and up to the present time nothing more has been heard of the loss.

WAS SPOONER HERE AS AGENT OF TAFT'S PRESIDENTIAL BEE?

MYSTERIOUS PILGRIMAGE OF EX-SENATOR SO INTERPRETED

LA FOLLETTE MEN ARE BUSY

Still Hunt Will Be Aided by an Article in the Arena Suggesting the Senator

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—The pot of presidential politics is already boiling in Wisconsin and the present indications are that it will narrow down between Senator La Follettee and Secretary of War William H. Taft to capture the Wisconsin delegation.

Senator Spooner made a mysterious visit to Wisconsin yesterday and since he left there has been all sorts of "Taft" talk about the capitol. There seems to be a general feeling here that ostensibly Mr. Spooner was here in the big war secretary's interests. Spooner kept away from newspaper men, gave no interviews, except that he was in "law business up to his ears."

Meanwhile Alfred T. Rogers, La Follette's political confidante, and Herman I. Ekern are at work in the office of Senator La Follette planning "things" for La Follette, An article has been written for the "Arena" magazine, suggesting Wisconsin's senator, as the logical successor of President Roosevelt. That the article is to be used as a clever piece of campaign literature is indicated from the fact that a large number of the capitol employes have been invited to buy 40 each to send where they will do some good. The article was written by William Kittle, secretary of the board of normal regents.

Aside from this hundreds of letters are being sent out throughout the country and the mail received has recently been increased to a noticeable degree. Apparently there will be no direct announcement of La Follette's candidacy, but a "still hunt" will be carried on in the next nine months.

WORKMEN WILL FIGHT PAYMENT

Local members of the Ancient Order of United Workmen behind in dues for failure to pay, or resignation, will contest the claims of the Milwaukee Surety company, the trustee in bankruptcy, appointed in the United States court to collect the debts.

Between $1,500 and $2,000 is outstanding in La Crosse, divided among 250 members. The claims range from $1.25 to $10 or more, but all are small sums. The small amount of the individual claims has caused several of the members, resigned and those owing lodge dues, to hire Attorneys Morris & Hartwell to contest the payment of the claims.

A local attorney has been retained by the trustee to collect the debts, and may bring suit against each individual. These suits will be contested, and it is expected that one case will settle all. Then the suit may be brought in one action, and defended in one, clearing away the whole case.

In case the members fail to pay, action probably will be brought in the circuit court at the January term.

NEW ALBIN BEATS THE DORCHESTER TEAM

The New Albin, Ka., baseball team on Sunday defeated the Dorchester aggregation, 3 to 2. The feature was the star fielding of both sides, there being only three errors. Ritter, the La Crosse pitcher for New Albin, struck out 11 and allowed 4 hits, while Schwartzoff struck out three and allowed 5 hits. Lenz caught for New Albin and Lowe for Dorchester.

GETS LIGHT SENTENCE BECAUSE HE MARRIED

MADISON, Sept. 25.—(Special.)—"Reddy" O'Brien, who escaped after burglarizing a saloon here more a year ago, pleaded guilty today and was sentenced to two and a half years in prison.

O'Brien's partner, a man named O'Tool, was convicted at the time of the crime and was sentenced to five years. The court was lenient with O'Brien because he married about eight months ago and has been living as an industrious workman since that time.

Yesterday's opening day's receipts at the Interstate fair were $500 short of the opening day last season, according to a statement issued by Secretary C. S. Van Auken this morning. However the crowds today are expected to more than make up for the deficit of yesterday.

The attendance yesterday Secretary Van Auken estimates at 4,500 people. This he says was not bad considering the cold weather, and was as much as could be expected.

"The prospects are only the brightest," said the secretary, and if we have good weather, we expect the 1907 fair to be the biggest in our history in point of attendance.

"Everything is running along smoothly and before the end of the week we think the limit of past years will be passed."

Many Excursions Come.

The district traversed by the La Crosse & Southeastern sent one of the largest delegations received during the day. Eight coaches were filled with fair visitors.

The Rushford and Austin excursion trains were filled and after their arrival this morning the downtown streets were thronged with strangers.

That the fair had been well advertised in the surrounding country was evidenced by the throngs of outsiders who came on excursion and regular trains, and today promises to be one of the very biggest in the history of the city.

OFFICIAL VISITS LA CROSSE

Says Freeport Won Two More Games Than Wausau and Therefore is Pennant Winner

President Charles F. Moll was in the city yesterday greeting the fans and shaking hands with his friends.

Mr. Moll is well pleased with the baseball season just closed and says that the clubs played good ball, so much so that the fans were aroused to enthusiasm beyond control, a fact which he did not approve of, and which he had tried to prevent by issuing his edict to the various residents of the clubs to afford ample protection to the umpires and players.

At the meeting of the directors last Saturday he says it was shown that the Freeport team had won two more games than Wausau and the pennant therefore goes to Freeport, although the Wausau club still hopes and contests the donation of the flag to the "Canners."

Freeport will no doubt be in the game again next year as President Moll says that they have already forwarded their share of the money for protection during the next season's series.

POOREST SEASON IN HISTORY

President Elliott Says Professional Ball Profits Have Been at a Low Ebb Here

The La Crosse League Baseball association came out of the season just closed $2,800 to the bad.

This, in spite of the sale of Konetchy and various schemes to make money, outside the gate receipts.

President Elliott said today that the season has been the worst, financially, ever experienced, and that stringent means must be taken next year to make up for the financial losses.

The La Crosse fans did not patronize the games this year as they did last, which caused the slump in receipts.

NO CHANGE IN LEAGUE MAKE-UP

There will not be any change in the make-up of the Wisconsin league next year. Already all of the clubs have forwarded their guarantee fee to Secretary Farrell and the league will be composed of the same clubs in 1908 as battled for the 1907 pennant.

Northern Europe had no experience with cigars until 1790, and the first factory was established at Hamburg in 1796.

COLUMBUS AND TORONTO SERIES

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 25.—The post-season series between Columbus, champions of the American Association, and Toronto, winners in the Eastern league, will start at Toronto today. Seven games are scheduled, but the team that wins four contests first will be declared the champion. It is planned to play three games in the Canadian city and the remainder at Columbus. Clarence Owens, an association umpire last season, but who has worked in the Eastern league this year, and Steve Kane, will officiate at all games. Ten per cent of the receipts will go to pay the expenses of the umpires and members of the board of control, and the remainder of the money will be divided on a basis of 60 per cent to the winning club and 40 per cent to the loser. Each club has deposited $2,000 as a guarantee that it will play all games as arranged by the board of control.

The votes cast since last Monday morning are very evenly distributed among the numerous candidates, and nearly every contestant in the race advanced her vote total materially. The names of candidates together with the number of ballots polled for each up to noon today will appear tomorrow. The report will be interesting in so far as there are quite a number of new aspirants in the race and all the districts have many changes.

Zest was added to the contest by the inauguration of the 2,000 extra vote offer which is in vogue this week. Candidates in every quarter of the territory covered by the contest are working with might and main this week, as each and every contestant understands that this special vote offer will not be repeated, and to not turn in subscriptions this week is to lose a splendid opportunity to get a sufficient number of votes to win one of the main awards.

The special offer has been outlined several times in these columns, and a majority of the candidates are familiar with its terms. Those who are not should call up or write the Contest Department at once for full particulars.

Above is a likeness of The Tribune's $1,250 Buick, which is on exhibition in front of the office every day. Those who have not seen it as yet should do so at once. It is certainly a fine machine and worthy of every effort it may take to win it.

Interest was never more heated in the gigantic coupon war than it is at the present time.

Chicago Trips.

The contestant should not forget that Saturday night closes the first three weeks of the contest. The decision on who wins the trips to Chicago will take place at 8 o'clock Saturday night. The 2,000 extra vote offer should be a great inducement for candidates to work for these trips as it will not only help you to win at the end of this week, but will pile up your votes for the final count on October 26. Do it today—NOW.

SCHNEIBERG GOES WITH MAJOR TEAM

BIG PITCHER TO BE WITH INDIANAPOLIS

TRADED BY DETROIT TIGERS

Manager of Brewers Is Making Desperate Fight for Him, But Will Likely Lose Star

Frank Schneiberg, once the star slabman of the Champs, and also of the Wisconsin league, who made an enviable record in the American association, is due for a berth on the Indianapolis team next season. Schneiberg is to be traded to Indianapolis by Detroit, who secured him from Milwaukee, for Summers, another association star. Another pitcher figures in the deal with Schneiberg.

President Havenor of the Milwaukee club, however, is not going to let his big twirler get away from him without a struggle. He has appealed the case to the National commission and is waiting daily for a decision.

Detroit let Milwaukee have Schneiberg this season with the understanding that he could be recalled. The big fellow did not show his true form in the earlier part of the season and Havenor sent to Detroit for waivers on him. The Detroit management informed him that he could do whatever he liked with Schneiberg, as they had released all claim to him. Then "Schnei" began to pitch winning ball, and the Detroit crowd came to the conclusion that he would be a handy thing to have around the club. The National commission upheld the big league club and decided that Schneiberg was a full fledged Tiger, even though he wore a Brewer uniform.

Havenor, however, has filed with the commission the letter which repudiated all claim to the pitcher, and he is now waiting for news from Cincinnati.

Even Then.—St. George was telling the town loafers how he had slain the dreaded dragon with his little sword. "Back to the caves!" shouted the crowd. "Anybody can tell that you are a nature faker." And even the affidavits of the cave men only caused the crowd to laugh the merrier.—Exchange.

Defeat is all the more bitter when the victor is one of those I-told-you-so persons.

Difficult to Inflict Pain.

The doctor smoked slowly on his cigar. It was plain that he had something to say.

"I was thinking of my early college days," he said, "and of a peculiar incident that happened very soon after I began my studies. The professor was instructing the class one day on the corpuscles of the blood. In order to get some fresh blood for microscopal examination each student was ordered to tie a rag around his forefinger and strike the top of the finger suddenly with a needle with sufficient force to draw blood. Seems easy, doesn't it? Do you know there wasn't a man in the class that did it at the first attempt. It was funny to watch some of those embryo surgeons poise the needle with a determined air and launch it to within a hair space of the flesh and there stop dead. Others tried to force the needle in slowly, but paused very shortly, with an expression of pain commensurate to that of an amputation. I myself gave it up as a bad job and hacked a cavity in my thumb with a penknife and found it easier.

"The fact that we were very young and inexperienced is no explanation for this peculiarity, as I have since found by personal test. Almost everybody exhibited the same repugnance to inflicting pain in that manner. Try it yourself."

The other man tried and succeeded on the fourth trial.

THAT MAN, LANDIS.

Judge K. M. Landis has been presented his "kingly crown." Not "thrice," perhaps, but it is probable that ten more "presentations" wouldn't make any difference.

Judge Landis was asked if he would accept the democratic presidential nomination. Of course he knew it was a plan of certain democratic leaders to make political capital out of his celebrated decision fining Standard Oil 29 millions. But the Landis presidential boom died aborning.

"To accept political preferment as a reward for anything I might do on the bench would be to impeach my integrity as a man and my honor as a judge," said the Chicago jurist with the emphasis of finality.

And that settled one thing. But something else happened in connection with Judge Landis yesterday. The judge announced that, acting on the request of the government that the grand jury he had impanneled to inquire into the Alton's complicity in the Standard Oil rebating crimes be dismissed, he would instruct the grand jury not to deal further with the Alton. But he declined to comply with Attorney General Bonaparte's demand that the grand jury be excused. Instead he set it on the trail of other rebaters to whom immunity had not been promised and taking a Standard Oil official at his word, he proposes to compel this man to assist in exposing the law breakers. That settled another thing.

Oh, that Judge Landis, he's quite a fellow!

THE RIVER CONVENTION.

In view of the coming waterways convention, which will occur at Moline Oct. 22 and 23, interest in this subject is picking up. One hopes that the convention will not again be dominated by the railroad interests, but that remains to be seen. L. B. Boswell, secretary of the association, is doing some effective circularizing in anticipation of the convention, the following having been received from him at this office:

"It is clearly demonstrated the improvement of the upper Missisippi river is needed from the fact that there is not at the present time sufficient depth of water in the channel to carry the steamer on which it was at first intended President Roosevelt and his party should make the voyage south from Keokuk. This required an alteration of plans and the selection of a steamer of lighter draught

"The Upper Mississippi River Improvement association has been urging upon congress for the past six years the absolute necessity of appropriating funds sufficient to protect the upper river, through the conservation of water in dry seasons, and maintaining a minimum depth of six feet in the channel. Reservoirs in the north will be of great value in storing water in the spring, to be released when dry seasons occur, thus keeping an average depth at all times during the open season.

"Unless the river is thus improved and ample provision made for its navigation throughout the entire open season, commerce in the upper valley will be deprived of one of the most valuable assets it controls.

"Water transportation governs rail rates of freight. Without depth of water, uncertainty prevails, and steamers cannot ply the stream with that regularity which would make them formidable competitors, hence this source of competition, and an avenue of relief from congestion of traffic is closed, unnecessarily, to the people.

"It is to be hoped the visit of President Roosevelt, and the inspection of the upper river by the inland waterways commission will give fresh impetus to the work of restoring the great river to the use of commerce, a result the Upper Mississippi River Improvement association has been striving to attain for the past six years."

That man Kellogg, "Jim" Hill's friend and counsellor, is making things so hot for Standard in New York that it is a wonder the oil don't ignite.

The Khedive is educated according to western ideas and is very devoted to French customs and ways of living, having spent many vacations while a lad in Paris. He is the seventh ruler of the Mehemet Ali dynasty and with the aid of the British government, which exercises a financial protectorate over Egypt, the country has prospered under his reign.

OUR NAVY'S OFFICERS

(Broadway Magazine.)

In the eyes of foreigners there are some startling defects in the personnel of our navy. Perhaps the principal one is the age of the flag officers and captains. Not a navy in the world numbers so many men of advanced years in command. All our admirals are between 60 and 62. It is probable that, in the event of war lasting a year, not one-half of the officers at present in command would possess the physical vigor to remain on active duty.

The extreme youth and lack of experience of the main part of the crews of these ships is another weakness. The percentage of veterans in the complement of each vessel is small. Our battleships are much under officered with experienced subordinate officers, gun division officers particularly.

The men of war of all other nations carry many more officers than ours, and more experienced than the American youngsters now available for such positions. This gap between our veterans and youthful men and commanders is due to the neglect of congress, which permitted five years to elapse after the Spanish-American war before the number of midshipmen was increased at Annapolis.

PLAYING THE POLITICAL GAME

(Springfield Republican.)

From the simple standpoint of the cause of municipal reform itself, the people of Cleveland would be justified in presenting the manner in which their municipal business has been mixed up with the interests of "the Republican party at large," to quote Mr. Taft's own words. Whether they do or not is a matter for future determination, but meanwhile the most unfortunate phase of the situation is the palpable interference in a municipality's business by a group of men whose recognized interest in national politics is such that they cannot escape the charge of using a city election to promote their ulterior political purposes. This is not reform it is nothing but "playing the game."

SHERMAN LAW DEFENDED.

(Philadelphia Press.)

The United States, wiser, having curbed and controlled combinations, will now regulate them. This is the next task. Railroad pooling should be allowed under restrictions. The margin between wholesale and retail prices should be protected. Publicity should be enforced to prevent evils from combinations. These are all now necessary reforms in the Sherman act, but in its day, not yet over, it has done a work approved by the American people as a whole.

FASHION HINTS

(By May Manton.)

5784 Girl's Dress, 6 to 12 years.

The coming of autumn does not mean alone the demand for prosaic school frocks, it also brings with it dancing school, parties and similar fascinating occasions for which just such pretty dresses as this one are certain to be in demand. In the illustration it is made of batiste flouncing combined with the plain material and is very dainty at the same time that it is absolutely simple and childish in effect. It could, however, be reproduced in almost any pretty and suitable material, for while the skirt is especially well adapted to flouncing or to bordered material, any plain one can be suitably trimmed and treated after the same manner. Thin white over colored silk slips makes a very charming effect but there are also numberless dainty yet simple silk and wool materials that can be utilized for the design. Pale pink, pale blue or white voile makes an exceedingly charming frock while the thinner India and China silks are in every way appropriate. Again cashmere or veiling in dark color could be used with such simple trimming as banding of velvet ribbon and the dress used for every day afternoon wear, with or without a guimpe.

The frock is made with the waist portion and the skirt. The waist is laid in a box plait at each side of the square neck at both front and back and the centre front, consequently, can be made from contrasting material. There are pretty ruffled sleeves and in this instance beading is arranged over the shoulders and threaded with ribbon that terminates in bows. The skirt is made with a deep yoke to which the lower flounce is attached and over which the upper one is arranged.

The quantity of material required for the medium size (10 years) is 5½ yards of flouncing 15 inches wide, 2⅜ yards 9 inches wide and ⅞ yards of plain material 36 inches wide; or 5¼ yards, 27, 4¾ yards 32 or 3⅜ yards 44 inches wide if plain material is used.

The pattern 5784 is cut in size for girls of 6, 8, 10 and 12 years of age and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. (If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery.)

PREACHING FREEDOM IN RUSSIA.

(Everybody's Magazine.)

"When the university opened last autumn I started to work again among the soldiers. As you know, the revolutionists are at present working hard to win over the army, and one of the means is to talk freedom directly to the soldiers. For this girls have been found to be more effective than men; the young peasant soldiers are more willing to listen to girls, and are far readier to protect them from arrest.

"So all over Russia hundreds and hundreds of girls are now nightly meeting with groups of soldiers, in workingmen's homes and in barracks. To go into barracks and talk revolution to the soldiers, hardly anything is so dangerous—for the girl caught is tried by court martial and in a day or two is executed."

THE AMERICAN SABBATH.

(Leslie's Weekly.)

In New Jersey, as in New York, there is continual pressure upon the makers and administrators of the law to set aside the restrictions that hedge about the sanctity of the American Sabbath, and appeals are made in the name of liberty, chiefly by citizens of alien birth and traditions, for a "continental Sunday."

Do these citizens realize that in accepting the hospitality of their adopted country they accepted also the spirit of its institutions, and that that spirit does not sanction the attitude towards the Sabbath that goes by the name of "continental"? The usages of this country, as established by its founders, have been good enough for their descendants, and why not for those aliens whom those descendants have welcomed to their shores? SPOTLIGHTS

At the Theatre.

The La Crosse theater this week has a well balanced company of players, Maxam & Sights Comedians. They will offer tonight "Kit Karson" at popular prices, 10 to 30c.

(Sioux City Tribune, Sept. 13th.)

The third performance of "The Girl Over There" since the company was organized in Chicago occurred at the New Grand theatre last evening. Starting off with a cowboy chorus with bang of revolvers, the offering proved to be what the announcements said it was, "a fresh western breeze with music." The fact that it was the first comic opera of the local season added interest to the occasion.

Winsome Mabel McCane is pretty much the entirety, outside of a rather pretty chorus. The part of Mona Randolph, dashing little daughter of Col. C. Clay Randolph, a rancher, is particularly suited to her style. Her irresistible way caught the audience at the start and whenever the petite little figure was tripping around the stage all eyes were on her. Her dainty gowns and exquisite hats struck the fancy of the feminine portion of the audience while her cleverness and sweet voice added to her charm.

The book of "The Girl Over There," centering around the love affairs of Mona, does not offer anything particularly novel. However, the situations are well worked out and there is enough of the melodramatic to satisfy the present day craving for the western ways and the western atmosphere. Some very pretty musical airs are woven in which may well bid for popular favor. Among them are "Fishing," "The Love Bug's Sting" and "Something We Keep Q. T." The staging and costuming are well done. The book is by Harry Sheldon White, the lyrics by Jack Kenyon and the music by P. Sweningson.

Geo. A. Lemming is capital as Col. Randolph. George Westlain Davies as Philip Lawrence, fiancee, groom, threatened grass widower and finally beloved husband of Mona, is attractive and convincing. Cecil B. Summers puts in some good fun in the part of Reddy Hampton.

Walter O. Lindsay, owner of the production, who is traveling with the company on this initial trip, was well pleased with the performance, all things considered. This evening's rendition doubtless will show improvement in the speed and dash in which the piece should go off. A matinee will be given tomorrow afternoon and the closing performance tomorrow evening.

"The Girl Over There" will appear at the La Crosse theatre Monday, Sept. 30th. It will be recalled that Walter O. Lindsay was last season's sponsor for "The District Leader," and is noted for his high class offerings.

OF HUMAN INTEREST

I wonder how many children and perhaps grown ups are suffering from severe colds today as a result of attending the fair "La Crosse Day." It certainly was a trying experience to say the least, to try and walk around and see the sights and enjoy yourself in the teeth of that terrible wind. Inside the buildings was not much better and those sensible folks who had on fur coats—fur coats I say—had the best of the bargain in every way.

Really it was pitiful to see some of the little children who, when seemingly dressed warm, could hardly withstand the cold. Especially did those from the country have the hardest time.

Hanging on to their father's and mother's hands, who felt I suppose that they couldn't go till they had at least got their money's worth, the little fellows fairly shook like leaves in the wind. The rest of the week promises to be more like "fair" weather and we will surely feel like taking the time under more favorable circumstances to do justice to all the departments of a most excellent fair. BRITISH WORKMEN'S WANTS.

(Collier's Weekly.)

Compulsory arbitration was introduced into New Zealand and Australia for the benefit of workingmen, and its results have been represented as the creation of a labor paradise, but labor in other countries does not seem to have been greatly impressed by them. The American unions have been bitterly opposed to the scheme preferring to take their chances in fighting or negotiation rather than to be compelled to submit their claims to outsiders. The same spirit evidently prevails in England.

The old age pension demand is one the statesmen are finding increasingly hard to resist. Many of them do not try to resist it, but have become its eager advocates. The only thing that delays its general adoption is its tremendous cost. Germany has a so called pension system for all workmen over 70, but as she makes them meet part of the cost themselves in advance it is really to that extent a compulsory insurance. The British workmen propose to have the pensions begin ten years earlier than in Germany and to make the government bear all the cost. Those ten years between 60 and 70 represent an enormous difference in the number of pensioners.

Of a million male children born in Great Britain 305,011 live to be 60 years old and only 222,056 to be 70. Of those who live to be 70 over half die in the next eight years. The financial problem to be met by the framers of a pension system beginning at 70 is of hardly more than one-fourth the difficulty of the one encountered in a system beginning at 60.

THE GIANT'S STRENGTH

BY BASIL KING

(Copyrighted by Harper & Bros.)

Paula started and looked at the young man across the table He had put nothing down. He had evidently lost all he could afford. What she had won she should be obliged to keep. The obscure power of chance had been true to their reputation, and had given the luck to those who had no need of it.

Her hand, with the glove full of gold, fell heavily at her side. Perhaps the unfortunate man had lost everything he possessed and would be driven to take his life, as she understood ruined gamblers generally were. She had a wild thought of asking her father to go and beg him to take his money back, when the victim's eyes wandered, apparently by accident, in her direction. For a fraction of a second their glances met, but Paula felt herself coloring and turned away.

"Why—what!"

The broken exclamation came fromthe Duke of Wiltshire, as he pushed his way through the crowd to take his place again at her side.

"Have you been crying—or playing?—or what?" he demanded, when he was near enough to speak. For the first time in their acquaintance he assumed a tone of authority.

"I haven't been crying," she said hurriedly. "I've been playing, and I've won a lot of money. I don't quite know what to do with it."

"So ho!" he laughed. "That's what you do when your father's back is turned!"

"I shan't do it again," she said, in some confusion, as she moved out of the ring immediately around the table. "You see it was this way. I played against that tall young man over there. Don't look now because he'll notice it. That is, whatever he did on one side of the table I did on the other, and he always lost and I always won. I'm sorry. He didn't look as if he could afford to lose—and he didn't keep on."

"What young man do you mean? I don't see him."

"He's tall, and well set-up, with a pointed brown beard and rather gleaming eyes. No; he's gone," she added, stealing a glance to where he had been standing. "Ah, there he is now, coming round the table. He's coming this way. Don't look; he'll know I've been speaking of him. Come away. There's papa. Let us go to him."

But it was too late. The unknown young man and the Duke were already shaking hands, with the cordiality of long-standing friendship. Paula tried to slip out of her embarrassment by gliding round them and taking her place beside her father. He was talking to a knot of people she did not know, but she was near enough to him to be under his protection, while not so far from the Duke as to escape hearing some of the remarks between him and the stranger.

Through the hum of movement and conversion about her she caught a sympathetic barytone quality of voice. From the English precision of his enunciation and the American plaintiveness of his inflections, she guessed he was one of those fellow-countrymen of her own who have lived or studied abroad. The Duke catechised him freely, and he replied with the sort of detail one gives only to one's friends.

He had been working in Rome, and would have remained till after Easter, only that he had a couple of commissions for portraits in Paris. Oh, yes; commissions did come in, but very slowly. Perhaps it would be different some day. Yes, his mother was quite accustomed to her blindness now, but so feeble that they might lose her at any minute. Marah was well, and, as usual, working hard. He was staying only a day or two at Monte Carlo, just to break the journey from Rome. He hoped to have something in the next Salon, though he had nothing ready yet. Perhaps if Lady Alice were passing through Paris, she would look in, and give him the benefit of her advice.

Then came the question Paula was afraid of. Would the Duke tell him who was the tall young lady, in a blue dress and black hat, who had spoken to him on turning away from the table? Of the reply she caught only the end of the sentence —"and you must know her."

She felt herself flushing with embarrassment, but as the Duke approached she knew the only dignified thing to do was to turn and greet him pleasantly.

"Miss Trafford," he said, with the awkward air he always had at such moments, "I want you to know a very old friend of ours, Mr. Roger Winship."

"Mr. Winship's face," she laughed "is perfectly familiar to me. I've been watching him from the other side of the roulette-table for nearly half an hour."

"And you saw the ill-will of the Gods against me," he returned easily. "But I had the gratification of knowing that I couldn't loose unless you won. That was something."

"Haven't we met before?" she asked, with a hurried change of topic.

"No, never."

The quick decisiveness of tone as well as the curious gleam of his eyes, in speaking the brief words, were details she remembered afterwards.

"And yet," she persisted, "your name is very well known to me. I've heard it often."

"That isn't impossible," he admitted, with a forced smile, "though you must have been very young."

"I know I've heard of a Roger Winship," she continued as if searching her memory. "It must have been my father—"

"Probably," he interrupted; "but it was so long ago—"

"That was your father's name and not yours that I've heard mentioned. Were you going to say that?"

"It was a long time ago," he repeated, the forced smile gone. "I don't suppose that either you or I—"

He hesitated, and Paula saw that it would be best to let the subject drop. The Duke broke in with a remark or two, and after a few words Winship bade them good-evening and passed on.

"What am I to do with all this money?" Paula asked, when she and Wiltshire were alone again.

"You might give it in charity," he suggested.

"No; I wouldn't do that. I could not give in charity money to which I felt some one else had a prior claim. And," she pursued, with some hesitation, "I suppose I was right in fancying that he is poor?"

"Oh yes; he's poor enough. He's a portrait painter, and still has his way to make. Alice got to know him and his sister when she took it into her head to study art in Paris. She brings them over every now and then to stay with us at Edinbridge, or, at least she did till the poor old lady grew too blind. I like this young fellow. He's full of ideas, and we've had some jolly talks together."

"I've heard your sister spoken of as a great authority on art. Does she think this Mr. Winship—?"

"She says she doesn't think—she knows. In ten year's time, she believes, he will have such a place as Sargent holds today."

"Then, what shall I do with the money?" Paula said again.

"What can you do but give it away or spend it?"

"I can keep it," she returned, thoughtfully. "I may find a way of getting him to take it back."

(To be Continued.)

An Apology.

Walter Rothschild, the richest bachelor in England, had a close call with matrimony when he was a young man. A designing mamma had managed to get the heir to the Rothschild millions interested in her daughter, and the daughter did all she could to lead the interest up to the point of a marriage proposal.

One night, at a watering place, after Rothschild had retired to his room, he heard voices under his window which he recognized as those of the young lady and her mamma.

"Has he proposed yet?" asked the old woman.

"Not yet," answered the daughter, "but I'll have him hooked before long, if only I can endure his conversation. Tonight he bored me almost to death talking about his kangaroos."

"I am sorry," said Rothschild, putting his head out of the window, "to have bored you with tales of my animals. Forgive me. I shall never do it again." And he never did. —London Echo.

Both of One Mind.

A fat Irish woman, bearing a number of bundles, entered a crowded tram car. The only semblance of a seat she could find was a small space at the right of a disagreeable youth. Into this space, sufficient only for an individual of ordinary size, the fleshy Irishwoman squeezed herself, much to the annoyance of the youth. After a moment or so the Irishwoman produced a cheese sandwich, which she proceeded to devour with every evidence of relish. At this the youth gave her a look of ineffable disgust, and drew the skirts of his frock closer to him. "I suppose, me lad," good naturedly said the woman, "that ye'd prafer-r to have a gintleman sittin' nixt to ye?" "I certainly would!" snapped the youngster. "So would I," calmly responded the fat person.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"A sailor," he said, "brought a tin cup to an inspecting officer and exclaimed:

"'Taste this, sir. That is all I ask. Just taste it.

"The officer took a nip.

"'Well, really, my man,' he said, 'this is not bad sop at all.'

"'Yes,' said the sailor, bitterly; 'and yet they want to persuade us, sir, that it's tea.'"—Washington Star.

DOG HOLDS UP TRAINS

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 25.—A little yellow dog, which happened to be frothing at the mouth, held up the entire Connellsville section of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad yesterday afternoon for an hour and a half, and it was not until five hours afterward that the trains on the road began to make their regular schedule.

The dog darted into the dispatcher's office at White Rock, a mile above the city. The train dispatcher just took time to hold up every train in the division and then he and the operators vacated the office. Word was sent to this city and a policeman—John Lows—was hurriedly sent to the office.

The policeman reached there about an hour afterward, looked at the dog, declared that it wasn't mad, chased it out of the office, the dispatcher and the operators returned, and the railroad resumed business.

DEATH MESSAGE ON TOP OF TOADSTOOL

BADGER BOY FINDS QUEER PIECE OF WRITING

DRIVEN TO SUICIDE BY LOVE

Body of Desperate Man Not Found—Finder of Note Asked to Notify Uncle of Death

FLORENCE, Wis., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—Clarence Workman, a boy, looking for his father's cows at Traverse City, at dusk, has found a remarkable death message.

Those who have roamed in northern Wisconsin forests know that the deadly toadstools that grow there, have leathery surfaces, almost like birch bark, and as good to write upon.

Young Workman brought in a large toadstool, upon which was written:

"'Notice—I, J. Allen, hereby request that the person who finds this, notify my uncle, W. Allen, Grand Rapids, R. F. D. No. 2, of my death. That he may give Ethel Thorn my share in my father's estate. For I love her though she has drove me to this desperate deed, even though another has taken my place. This will be my last message. Soon I will have a hole through my brain. No use to look for my body.

"JOSEPH ALLEN."

The body has not been found by numerous searching parties.

LIQUOR INTERESTS HAVE REAL DEFENDER

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—Franklyn Thomson, editor of "The Other Side," a publication devoted to the interests of the ligitimate saloon keeper, and publisher of the state jewelers' organ as well, says the purpose of his new saloonmens' paper is no less than to "fight a ring which under the guise of promoting temperance, is endeavoring to promote a new political party of natonal scope." Mr. Thomson says the courts will never uphold the Indiana judge who rules that saloons, no matter how well licensed, exist entirely illegally. He questions the motives of the anti-saloon leaguers in toto. Mr. Thomson defends the legitimate saloonkeeper, and declares that the Wisconsin Retail Liquor Dealers' Association more truly fights the illigitimate and conscienceless saloon, than any other organization, no matter what its name may be.

BADGER GIRL TO STUDY IN EUROPE

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(Special.)—Miss Ada Saecker, of Appleton, Wis., prominent as a singer in Wisconsin and the northwest, today boarded a steamer for Europe. She will do concert work in Germany during the coming year. She expects to remain there three years, taking instructions and singing at concerts. Miss Saecker is well at home in German and French, as well as in English. She won within a short time sufficient reputation to gain her a place with a German Concert company.

MESSENGER BOYS GO ON A STRIKE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 25.—Thirty messenger boys in the employ of the Postal Telegraph company walked out yesterday. The boys gave no reason for their move. They did not demand na increase of pay, better hours, or anything else—they simply quit work, according to representatives of the company.

FORGER BREAKS JAIL

MERRILL, Wis., Sept. 25.—Geo. Ward, who has been held at the county jail here for about two weeks for forgery, and who had admitted his guilt, escaped about 7 o'clock last night. Sheriff Bartelme's son entered the corridor in which several prisoners were playing cards and forgot to lock the door behind him. Ward being close to the door at the time, made his exit, the others making all the noise they possibly could so he would not be heard swinging the door open.

MISS HOARD OFF TO WED IN AUTO

GRANDDAUGHTER OF FORMER GOVERNOR A BRIDE

WHIRL AWAY TO MINISTER

Secure License and Depart in Large Machine; Hometown Surprised by Sudden Marriage.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 25.—With Cupid hovering over the back of the tonneau of a big touring car, Miss Gwendolyn Hoard, the pretty daughter of A. R. Hoard, and granddaughter of former ex-Gov. W. D. Hoard of Fort Atkinson, Wis., and Theodore Wood, the occupants, drew up before the Washington street entrance of the county building yesterday and asked to be directed to the city clerk's office.

Ten minutes later they stood in the office of the marriage clerk and affixed their names to the license giving them permission to wed in the state of Illinois.

Who Is Young Lochinvar?

Miss Hoard in signing gave her residence as Fort Atkinson, Wis. At the clerk's office it is said that Mr. Wood's residence was the same, but from other sources it was learned that he is engaged in business in Chicago.

Miss Hoard and Mr. Wood were accompanied to the clerk's office by two gentlemen friends. They refused to make their names public.

In Quest of a Parson.

After the license had been secured, the party of four left the building leisurely and entering the big auto were whirled, presumably on their way to the residence of the minister who was to marry them.

Up to 3 o'clock their marriage had not been reported.

Probable, Says Fort Atkinson

FORT ATKINSON, Wis., Sept. 25.—A report was crrent here yesterday that Miss Gwendolyn Hoard, one of the city's young society bells had gone to Chicago and married Theodore Wood.

The news came in a rumor that they had procured a marriage license there.

Miss Hoard is a granddaughter of former Gov. Hoard, but none of the Hoard family could be reached late yesterday afternoon to verify the report. There are those in the city who declare that the report is probably true.

OUT ON BONDS; BOY STEALS AGAIN

Convicted of burglary and sentenced to the Wisconsin Industrial School for Boys, Harold Hilbert, the 11-year-old son of Edward Hilbert, 261 Avon street, was convicted again and sentenced to the same institution while out on bonds, pending an appeal to the circuit court. Late Monday afternoon, the youngster, the smartest young prisoner ever arraigned in county court, was sentenced to the reform school, for stealing several articles from the Fifth district school, St. James and Logan streets.

On Sept. 4, young Hilbert was convicted for burglarizing the store of Christian Smith, 728 Avon street. His parents took an appeal and the boy was alowed his temporary liberty, and entered the fth district school. Shortly after his admittance, teachers missed various articles, among them being two pocket knives and a pitch pipe, the property of Miss Mary Devine.

When Miss Clara Anderson, another teacher in the school, found Hilbert playing with a knife, she took the property from him Miss Devine identified it, and the youthful thief was called before Prof. Harry Spence, the principal, for an explanation. He denie dthe theft but admitted later.

When arraigned before Judge Brindley, the young prisoner again showed his qualities for lying. He denied the theft and claimed he had purchased the knives and pitchpipe from a "dark haired boy who told him he ought to hide the property for a day or two." He said his father gave him the knife, adn his mother coincided in the belief. Then he denied this story and told of the purchase.

When arrested by the police, Hilbert said, "I want to call up my attorney, Tom Morris, right away." Attorney Morris refused to handle the case on the second charge.

SPECTACULAR SHOW HONOR "BOB" FULTON

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 25.—Elaborate and beautiful ceremonies marked the observance of "Robert Fulton day" at the Jamestown exposition. None of the many historical events commemorated by the tercentennial have been of deeper significance than the celebration of the practical application of Robert Fulton's inventions to the world's needs.

The Robert Fulton Monument association by its participation added prominence to the occasion. The orator of the day was Martin W. Littleton of Brooklyn.

Cornelius Vanderbilt, president of the association, and Dr. Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain) were present, each being accompanied by a party of guests.

A spectacular feature was a representation of what the inventions of Fulton have meant to the world. It was the assembling in Hampton Roads of every sort of craft propelled by steam.

KNOWS HOW
Doctor Had Been Over the Road.
When a doctor, who has been the victim of the coffee habit, cures himself by leaving off coffee and taking Postum Food Coffee, he knows something about what he is advising in that line.
A good old doctor in Ohio, who had at one time been the victim of the coffee habit, advised a woman to leave off coffee and take on Postum.
She suffered from indigestion and a weak and irregular heart and general nervous condition. She thought that it would be difficult to stop coffee abruptly. She says: "I had considerable hesitancy about making the change, one reason being that a friend of mine tried Postum and did not like it. The doctor, however, gave explicit directions that Postum must be boiled long enough to bring out the flavour and food value.
"His suggestions were carried out and the delicious beverage fascinated me, so that I hastened to inform my friend who had rejected Postum. She is now using it regularly, after she found that it could be made to taste good.
"I observed, a short time after starting Postum, a decided change in my nervous system. I could sleep soundly, and my brain was more active. My complexion became clear and rosy, whereas, it had been muddy and spotted before; in fact, all of the abnormal symptoms disappeared and I am now feeling perfectly well.
"Another friend was troubled in much the same manner as I, and she has recovered from her heart and stomach trouble by leaving off coffee and using Postum Food Coffee.
"I know of several others who have had much the same experience. It is only necessary that Postum be well boiled and it wins its own way." "There's a reason." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

LAUNCHES CAN ENTER LAGOON

Hereafter it will be much easier for boats and launches to pass from the Mississippi river into the Pettibone park lagoon, and picnic parties will thus no doubt be made much more popular.

Permission was granted to Mr. Clark of the La Crosse Dreding company, who was awarded the contract for filing in the approaches of the Pettibone park bridges, to take sand from the swamps south of the road between the two bridges.

Mr. Clark at first contemplated taking the sand from the Mississippi and running it to the site of the approaches in iron pipes as usual, but the river has risen and he will now take sand from the swamp, which is much nearer. This will serve two purposes. It will make it much easier for him to procure the sand and will make a large opening to the lagoon which has been wanted for some time.

Commissioner Beckwith viewed the place where the sand is to be taken from, and granted Mr. Clark permission to make use of it today.

SAVES WOMAN, HE GETS TEN THOUSAND

HEROISM OF ENGINEER IS GENEROUSLY AWARDED

JOHN FRANKLIN LUCKY MAN

Pulled Millionaire's Drowning Daughter from Devils Lake—Gets $10,000 For It

John Franklin, an engineer on the Chicago & Northwestern road, residing at Kendalls, Wis., a station a few miles east of the city, and running between his home and Sparta, Wis., has received a check for $10,000 for saving the life of a woman at Devil's Lake, iWs., a few weeks ago, and the promise of another check of the same amount for his heroism.

Mr. Franklin, with his wife, was spending a few days at the lake. At the same time William Peterson, a Chicago millionaire, with his wife, daughter and Miss Jenkins, a sister-in-law, was also encamped at the lake.

One morning while out in a boat, the girl and Miss Jenkins rowed over to a spring to get a drink. As Miss Jenikns attempted to get back into the boat she slipped, falling into the water. The impact drove the craft from shore and although she managed to seize hold of the boat she could not draw herself from the wate.. For an hour she held grimly to the boat while her niece cried for help. To loosen her grip meant death, for the water was over fifty feet deep at that place.

Mr. Franklin discovered the plight of te woman and managed to rescue her from her perilous position, just as her strength was about failing her.

Miss Jenkins was one of the few who escaped from the Iroquois holocaust at Chicago, and says she fears she is to die a violent death.

Although one oar had been lost, one remained in the boat, and had either woman or child retained her presence of mind the boat could have been paddled to shore. The woman was unconscious for some time afer being taken from the water.

A CONVALESCENT'S SAD CONDITION

Attack of Inflammatory Rheumatism Left Sufferer With No Appetite—Skin Peeled and Hair Came Out in Bunches—Bed Sores Developed—All Treatment Failed Until

A TRIAL OF CUTICURA PROVED SUCCESSFUL

"About four years ago I had a very severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I was taken very ill and was soon in a high fever. I did not leave my bed for four months, and during three of those months I could not move voluntarily, the pain was so intense. My skin peeled, and the high fever played havoc with the lustre of my hair, which came out in bunches. I also had three large bed sores on my back, — two on the shoulders and one at the waist. I could have cried the first time I saw myself in a mirror. I had lost fully thirty-six pounds, and looked like a consumptive. I did not gain very rapidly, and my appetite was very poor. When I was able to get around, I had all my friends advising remedies, and all guaranteed 'sure cures.' I tried many, but they were of little help, and until I tried Cuticura Resolvent I had had no real relief. That gave me such an appetite that I felt half starved about all the time, and I immediately began to gain in weight, my complexion cleared, and I felt better. The bed sores went very soon after a few applications of Cuticura Ointment, and when I used Cuticura Soap as a shampoo and Cuticura Ointment as a massage, my hair began to regain its former glossy appearance. I am really all made over, and cannot say enough for the Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. Lavina J. Henderson, 138 Broad St., Stamford, Conn., March 6 and 12, 1907."

ITCHING DEVILS

Are little patches of eczema on the skin, scalp, or hands, which are instantly relieved and speedily cured, in the majority of cases, by gentle anointings of Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure, preceded by warm baths with Cuticura Soap. This treatment succeeds when all else fails, and is pure, sweet, permanent, and economical.

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children, and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (25c.) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c.) to Heal the Skin, and Cuticura Resolvent (50c.) SHERIFF STARTS YEGGMAN SEARCH

HAS CLEW TO MYSTERIOUS STRANGER

DROVE TOWARD HOLMEN, WIS.

If a Foxy Criminal, However, His Course May Have Been Altered to Throw Pursuers Off.

Sheriff C. J. Burns left today for Mindoro, Wis., on a search for the yeggmen, who blew up the town yesterday, tapping the general store of F. J. Ruhlan, the postoffice, and the feed mill. Immediately after receipt of the information that the town had been visited by a gang of robbers, every village officer in the county, the La Crosse police department, and sheriffs in adjoining counties were asked to be on the lookout for the men.

Today no further information had been received of the escape of the gang. When Sheriff Burns left for Mindoro, he was armed with a John Doe warrant, with which he may arrest any strangers. If the "yeggs" remained in the vicinity of Mindoro, it is probable they will be captured for an organized search of the district surrounding has been started by the sheriff, assisted by several of the residents of the town.

Late yesterday a description of a stranger, who loitered about the town Monday, was received by the sheriff. It was reported that the man drove north in the direction of Holmen, after the burglary, but he may have turned to the north or other direction after he was last seen. Sheriff Burns has a description of the stranger and will place him under arrest if found.

This is the only clue the authorities have received. It is probable, as is the custom with yeggmen, that they left immediately for the nearest railway station, either at Black River Falls, Wis., Sparta, Wis., or West Salem, Wis., and departed. Early morning trains at these places would have carried the men far away from the scene of the crime. They had ample time to reach any of these places by team, after the robbery was discovered.

The special excursion train started this morning from Austin, Minn., stopping along the way to pick up fair visitors. When Rushford was reached three extra coaches were attached, filled with 400 Rushford people and the band. The train of eight coaches proceeded to it's destination stopping at the other stations between here and Rushford. At Spring Valley a delegation of fifty boarded the train and when the special reached here with band playing and banners flying there were about 700 people on board.

Serenaded at Depot.

At the depot when the train arrived was President T. H. Spence of the Fair association, accompanied by Dana's military band, and the visitors were given a warm welcome. The Rushford band responded to the greeting by playing a selection on the platform, when the jolly throng of pleasure seekers proceeded up the street. The train arrived at 10:30.

The Southern Minnesota visitors have two chances to return. They may take the regular train which leaves here at 7 o'clock this evening. In case they desire to remain for the evening doings down town they can leave with the special which will go at 11 o'clock.

Other Excursions.

The Southeastern brought an excursion from Viroqua, eight coaches of visitors coming in. The Northwestern and Burlington today added extra coaches to the regular trains and hundreds of excursionists were brought in on these regular trains.

SPRING GROVE TO SEND EXCURSION

MONSTER FAIR CROWD COMING TOMORROW MORNING

DELAYED BOOSTER SPECIAL

Neighboring City Will Prove Its Friendship to La Crosse by Sending Its Citizens

Spring Grove, Minn., will do honor to La Crosse and to the La Crosse Inter-State Fair association tomorrow, when the month-delayed Booster day excursion will arrive. Great plans have been made at Spring Grove for the excursion, while the civic society heads of the city, and the fair association have planned a rousing reception for Henry Fladager and his fellow townsmen. The plan is to have the La Crosse welcome at the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul depot outdo the reception tendered the La Crosse Board of Trade at Spring Grove last summer.

The train will leave Spring Grove early tomorrow morning, and arrive here about 11 o'clock. The train will be exclusively Spring Grove, the citizens of the prosperous little Minnesota city vieing with other cities in the vicinity in coming to La Crosse alone, and with a large representation. No stops wil be made along the Preston branch of the Milwaukee, or on the Dubuque division, the train running directly to the city from Spring Grove. Henry Fladager, who has charge of the arrangements at Spring Grove, promises an attendance of 250 or more, perhaps 500. He has pledged himself to see that proper reciprocity is given La Crosse for the Board of Trade excursion of the summer.

On arrival here one of the big bands, either the Third Regiment band or Kreutz's, perhaps two, will meet the guests of La Crosse for the day. An unusually cordial welcome will be extended, while the officers and leaders of the La Crosse Board of Trade will be on hand to receive the guests.

Then the good time will begin, and continue until the train is taken for Spring Grove tomorrow evening. A continual round of pleasure is promised Spring Grove.

HEPBURN SCOLDS ALL KINDS OF PEOPLE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Congressman Hepburn, of Iowa, has been roasting everybody, even including Roosevelt. He referred to Harriman today as a "financial freebooter," and said if congress fails to enact some legislation to regulate stock issues of interstate commerce corporations, there will be nothing to check the "Wall street sharks."

"Cortelyou ought to know better," he said when asked about Cortelyou's latest scheme to prevent stringency in the money market. He said the project for deepening the Mississippi, for which Roosevelt is going to Keokuk to lend his aid, is "another scheme to raid the treasury."

Lots of fellows would marry a bank account, no matter what its owner looked like.

COLD WEATHER SLOWS THE TIME

TRACK, HOWEVER, WAS IN FINE CONDITION

NEVILLE WINS 2:30 TROT

Other Event at Fair Yesterday Is Hard Fought for and Is Won by Rollins

Good horse racing, with fast time, considering the cold and heavy wind which blew down the back stretch, characterized the racing at the first day of the Interstate fair. In spite of the elements which prevented faster time, there were exciting contests, notably in the 2:16 pace, when five heats were run, and the money divided on the second place secured by the winner. No horse won a majority of the heats, but the Great Western circuit rules specify five heats and no more.

In the 2:16 pace, Creston, Rollins and Bessie Ross had the honors about evenly divided, with Rollins a favorite. Creston won the first heat, Rollins taking the next two, and then Bessie Ross came to the front with two firsts, but Rollins was given first money, having two seconds and a third to two thirds and a second by Bessie Ross.

In spite of the contending difficulties every race was the real thing, and spectators were kept on edge in some of the drives. The time was close to the track record, the horses in the 2:35 trot bringing their time down ten seconds. In the trot, May Neville had an easy time, taking the race in straight heats, but not without having trouble with Jim Fisk, who was lame, but trotted an admirable race.

The Interstate track is in the best of condition. Horses stepped their liveliest yesterday, but the heavy wind deterred them in their efforts to circle the track in less than 2:17. With a good warm day, and no wind,

HUGGINS CASE IS IN HANDS OF JURY

COURT GIVES JURORS SET OF QUESTIONS TO SOLVE

NON-SUIT MOTION IS DENIED

Attorneys Take up Morning Session of Court With Arguments and Jury Gets Case

This afternoon, the suit of John A. Huggins, administrator of the estate of his son, Benjamin Huggins, who died from injuries received in a fall from a street car on April 13, was given to the jury for consideration. The arguments were started this morning

The motion of the attorneys for the La Crosse City Railway company, the defendants, for non-suit was not granted by Judge Fruit yesterday afternoon. Attorney Lees contended there were no grounds for action, but Judge Fruit decided to allow the jury to settle the merits of the case.

Question to Answer.

This morning, before the arguments were started, a special verdict was drawn up, consisting of five questions as follows:

1. Did the defendant railway company negligently operate and run its car at the time Benjamin Huggins received his injuries?
2. Did the injuries received by Benjamin Huggins cause his death? Answered by the court, "yes."
3. If you answer the first question "yes," then was the negligence of the railway company the proximate cause of injuries?
4. Was the deceased, Benjamin Huggins, guilty of any want of ordinary care, which contributed to his injuries at the time of the accident?
5. If the court shall finally determine that the plaintiff is entitled to recover, at what sum do you assess the damages?

Bleekman Opens Argument.

Attorney A. E. Bleekman, Jr., one of the counsel for the Huggins heirs, opened the arguments for the plaintiffs. He declared the car was moving at an unusually fast rate of speed and this was primarily responsible for the death of Huggins. The family relations of the victim also were touched upon, his saving qualities and the loss in income to the family through his death.

Attorney Lees followed for the defense. He said the family received little from Huggins, $3 each week, and a few groceries which he purchased. Attorney Woodard concluded for the defense, claiming the car was not going at an unusual rate of speed, although the attorneys for the plaintiff said the car was behind time in leaving Fourth and Main streets at the time of the accident.

Attorney Humphrey J. Barton, St. Paul, one of the counsel for the plaintiff, began his argument to the jury this morning, but was not able to finish by time the noon adjournment was taken. When court convened this afternoon, he finished his address. Judge Fruit began his charge to the jury about 2:30 o'clock and it is expected the jury will receive the case about 3 o'clock.

VERNON SENDS BIG CROWDS TO THE FAIR OVER L. C. & S. E. DAILY

The La Crosse & Southeastern train brought 415 people to the fair from Viroqua, Cashton and the other cities and villages along that line. The crowd was immense, and special accommodations were provided.

Patronage of the fair from the towns and country back of the Southeastern has been greatly increased this year by the action of the company in providing special trains for return trips. Tonight and tomorrow night specials will leave La Crosse at 11 p. m. to take the returning fair-goers to their homes. This method enables the visitors to complete their day's outing, taking in the fair, the streets at night, the theaters and everything of interest.

It is anticipated that fully 600 fair-goers will come in over the Southeastern tomorrow morning, while a rough estimate of the attendance coming over that line for the entire week is 1,550.

FISH A BORROWER; HARAHAN TELLS IT

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Coincident with the issuance of the annual report, President J. T. Harahan of the Illinois Central Railroad yesterday struck back at Stuyvesant Fish. In unmistakable terms he brands Mr. Fish as a borrower and a falsifier, if not worse.

The charges are contained in a statement issued to the stockholders of the company in reply to the circular letter sent out on Monday from New York by Mr. Fish.

The most serious charge in this informal indictment is that when he was president of the road Mr. Fish loaned himself $1,500,000 out of the company's treasury. For this he is said to have given the road questionable security, which subsequently proved unmarketable and insufficient. The other directors, Mr. Harahan claims, shielded Mr. Fish, and one of them even loaned him the necessary money when all other sources had failed.

The security furnished for this loan is said to have been the unmarketable collateral given the road and the pledging of Mr. Fish's New York residence and his undivided interest in the estate of the late Hamilton Fish.

S.S.S. KILLS THE GERMS OF SCROFULA

Through the blood, diseases are carried from one generation to another. Parents transmit them to their children, and so it goes on down the family line for years and years unless the taint is removed from the blood. Especially is this true of Scrofula, for it is a disease that is "bred in the bone," and unless the blood is purified and every trace of the trouble removed the miserable disease will finally undermine the entire health and wreck the life of its victim. The usual symptoms of Scrofula are enlarged glands or tumors about the neck, which often burst and become discharging ulcers, weak eyes, Catarrh of the head and throat, skin diseases, etc. The trouble being so firmly intrenched in the blood often attacks the bones, resulting in White Swelling, or hip disease, while a waxy, pallid appearance of the skin, loss of strength and energy, and often lung affections, show that the disease is entirely destroying the bright red corpuscles and rich, nutritive qualities of the blood. Scrofula being a constitutional disease, one affecting the entire circulation, must be treated with a remedy that builds up and strengthens every part of the system, which has so long been denied the strength and nourishment it should have received from the blood. S. S. S. is the best of all blood purifiers and the greatest of all tonics, and is therefore the ideal remedy for Scrofula. S. S. S. searches out and destroys all germs, taints and poisons, gives strength, richness and vigor to the blood and cures Scrofula permanently. It so thoroughly removes the trouble from the blood that no signs of it are ever seen again, and posterity is started out in life with a clean, pure blood supply, which is their rightful inheritance. S. S. S. while thorough, is gentle in its action, and the healing vegetable ingredients which compose it build up every part of the system. Book on the blood and medical advice free. MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

TETANUS SUCCUMBS TO MILL CITY M. D.

MINNEAPOLIS BOY SURVIVES REMARKABLE OPERATION

SKULL OF LAD IS TERPHINED

Serum Is Injected Directly Into the Brain and Youth Lives—Heroic Methods Safe His Life

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 25.—Tetanus, the disease dreaded by every physician in the world and for which few remedies have been discovered that will avail in advanced stages, has been conquered at the Minneapolis City hospital by heroic mehods employed in the case of a 9-year-old boy whose skull was trephined and the anti- tetanus serum injected directly into the brain. The boy has fully recovered and been discharged from the hospital.

Little Miner Moore was working near the hen coop at his home last summer when he ran a sliver into his foot. The sliver was removed and little thought of the accident at te htime. But nine days later the boy became suddenly ill and in a few hours he was unable to open his jaws.

All the symptoms of the most advanced stage of lockjaw were present when the little patient was taken to the hospital. He was subject to spasms and the muscles of his back were contracted. It was at once decided that nothing but the most advanced methods of treatment would avail and the boy was immediately operated upon.

Heroic Measures Taken.

Dr. C. J. Ringnell attended the patient and ordered the operation. The skull was trephined in two places. Ten cubic centimeters of anti-tetanus serum was injected into the right frontal lobe of the brain by this method. Later the same day forty cubic centimeters of the serum was injected into the veins of the right arm. The next day ten centimeters of serum was injected into the left lobe of the brain, and thirty more into the left arm.

In all nearly three ounces of the serum was thus injected into the little boy's system. Special care had to be taken to prevent the large amount of serum injected from affecting the boy's respiration, but the surgeons were able to do that through carefully watching the patient.

The boy aws in the hospital for a long time before it was finally announced that he was out of danger from the dread disease. The treatment appears to have been entirely successful and owrked where the usual remedies for lockjaw would probably have failed.

NORTHWEST BRIEFS

SLEEPY EYE, Minn.—The Sleepy Eye Milling company is making extensive preparations to enlarge their cereal plant, and by the opening of next spring this will possibly have the largest cereal plant in the state. At present they are using a portion of the old mill to manufacture their large list of cereals, which consist of several brands of breakfast foods Pankako, Koffeo-no and other cereals. The company has a big force of men at work in its plant and it is its intention to embark more extensively in this line of milling. J. D. Dundas of Philadelphia is in charge of this branch of the company's business.

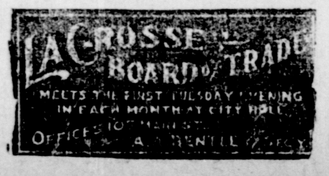

SIOUX FALLS, S. D. — In future prisoners in the Day county jail who attempt to apply a saw to the bars of their cells in efforts to make their escape will be shocked. Sheriff Gross of that county has had all the bars in the county jail heavily charged with electricity, and by this effective and unique method he will prevent prisoners making their escape by sawing off the bars of their cell windows.

RED WING, Minn.—Andrew L Swanson of Minneapolis, while alighting from a Chicago Great Western passenger train at Cannon Falls, lost his footing and fell beneath the wheels. Both feet were badly crushed. He was taken to the hospital here. It was found necessary to amputate the right foot above the ankle and it is feared the left one will have to be cut off in order to save his life.

BEMIDJI, Minn.—Maj. Francis R. Shunk, in charge of the United States government engineers for the district of St. Paul, has sent word to this city notifying those interested that the meeting which was to have been held next Thursday has been postponed until Wednesday, Oct. 2. Maj. Shunk has arranged for a joint meeting of the loggers and lumber men and those interested in the navigation of the waters of the Mississippi river in the vicinity of Bemidji.

Quite frequently men do things that remind you that common sense is not so common as it should be.

BUTTER JUDGES TO MEET IN CONTEST

EXPERTS OF COUNTRY ARE ASKED TO ENTER

MINNESOTA IS TO BE HOST

State Association Has Iussued Challenge and Will Offer Prizes to Best Estimators of Delicacy

ST. PETER, Minn., Sept. 25. — Buttermarkers of Minnesota have issued a challange to the butter judges of the country to prove their competency. They have done so by announcing tnat when the fourteenth annual convention of the Minnesota State Butter and Cheese Makers' association is held in this city on Oct. 30 and 31 and Nov. 1, they will offer prizes for a butter-scoring contest, which will be open for every butter judge, buttermaker or dealer in the United States. This is a new feature for buttermakers' conventions, and the contest will be the first of its kind ever held.

Members of the Minnesota society and of other state associations long have sought to devise a way to test te efficiency of the men who test the butter. Butter scorrers and judges never have been entirely free from suspicion, but competitive matches have been frowned upon because there was no standard by which to judge the judges. This obstacle has been overcome by pitting them against standards established by themselves.

Under the rules of the contest each participant will be required to score twenty-rive tubs of butter and then rescore the same samples. A careful record will be kept of the markings, and in rescoring any deviation from the first set of grades will be counted against the participant. Where there is no hdissimilarity between the two sets of scores the judge will be awrded a perfect grade of 100 points.

Butter exchanges at Chicago, New York and the other leading markets will be asked to have their inspectors enter the contest, and it is expected that the judges of the country will be eager to compete.

HABITS OF SPIDERS.

"Do These Insects Sleep?" Is Not an Easy Question to Answer.

The question, "Do spiders sleep at night?" is not easy to answer. I have made a careful observation of the sleep of ants, and that could readily be done by watching colonies in their artificial formicaries. It is almost impossible to deal with spiders in the same way. I would answer, however, in general terms that spiders sleep, as all animals do, and doubtless parts of the night are spent in slumber. Many species, however, prey on the night flying insects, and so must be awake in order to catch their prey. If you will watch the porch or outbuildings of your home on a summer evening you will be likely to see an orb weaving spider drop slowly down on a single thread in the gathering dusk of the evening. From this beginning a round web will soon be spun, and either hanging at the center thereof or in a little nest above and at one side is the architect, with forefeet clasping what we call the "trap line" and waiting for some night flying insect to strike the snare. In this position spiders will sometimes wait for hours, and it is just possible that they may then take a little nap. They might easily do that and yet not lose their game, for the agitation of the web would rouse the sleeper, and then it would run down the trap line and secure its prey. Some species of spiders do the chief part of their hunting at night, and there are some who chiefly hunt during the day; but, as a rule, these industrious animals work both day and night.—St. Nicholas.

Suffered For His Chickens.

In London as far back as 1791 a city ordinance was passed to suppress the early morning cries of the street hucksters. This law was so severe that a person arrested twice for the same offense could be imprisoned for ten years. There is one record of a man lingering in prison for ten years. When his time was up he was asked what his crime was.

"For selling chickens that squawked," was the reply.

In the confusion of the trial the fact was not brought out that the chickens and not the man were responsible for the din that aroused the wrath of the disturbed citizens.

Wanted Money Too.

Ned, walking with his father, saw him give a beggar 5 cents and inquired into the matter.

"What did you give that man 5 cents for, papa?" asked Ned.

"So that he might eat bread, my boy," said the father.

That evening at the supper table it was observed that Ned declined to eat any bread, in any shape.

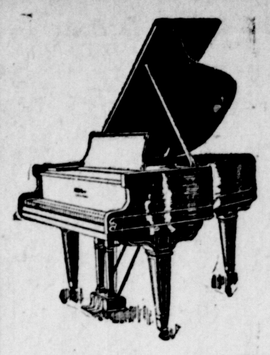

"Aren't you eating bread nowadays, my boy?" his mother asked.

"No, mamma."

"Why not?"

"So papa'll give me 5 cents."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

GREATEST SUCCESS

The "Pike" presents the usual number of oddities, while the popcorn and lunch stands, candy wheels and unique displays are there in profusion.

The display of farm implements is to be found along the east side of the road from the State street entrance, and a number of gasoline engines keep the machinery in motion, illustrating its operation to interested spectators.

The Exposition Building.

The exposition building presents one of the most interesting sights on the grounds. The walk between the road and building is filled up with display tents, and candy stands. The Tribune's Buick touring car to be given away in the popularity contest is here on display and attracts much attention.

One of the most interesting displays inside the building is the agricultural display from the west, which occupies the center of the big building. There are shown samples of the western country to which a large number of Wisconsin peaple are migrating and the display gives evidence that their judgment in a place of settlement is not lacking.

The needlework, culinary and fancy goods departments are all filled to overflowing and are the mecca of women visitors.

Westby Brothers, the Vote-Berger company, the Summit Stove Works, Liesenfeld, the printer, Gund, the Berg Piano company, Adam Kroner, the Nelson Carpet company, and others have excellent displays in this building, which is thronged with visitors all day long.

Under the Grand Stand.

The horticultural, dairy and agricultural displays under the grandstand are especially pleasing this year, and the work of awarding premiums has already been started. There are also various vending booths beneath the grand stand.

Poultry and Cattle.

The poultry and cattle exhibits west of the grand stand include some remarkable displays. Especially in the poultry department is the showing a good one, and one man has almost an entire side of the building filled.

The stock exhibited this year is larger in variety and in numbers than last, and some of the finest breeds in the northwest are being marked today for the premium awards.

Premium Awards.

The work of judging the exhibits is now on in the various departments and the judges expect to have the awards completed by Friday.

Some of the sweepstakes were awarded today in the cattle department, and some of the results may be known before the close of the fair, but it will take several days to compile all of the work of the judges.

AGED AERONAUT HAS BEST SHIP

CONSTANCE, Grand Duchy of Baden, Sept. 25.—Count Ferdinand Zeppelin, the German aeronaut, made the most successful aerial voyage ever achieved in any dirigible balloon. He spent four hours and seevnteen minutes in the air, completely circumnavigating the Lake of Constance and passing over five different states. The speed of the airship is estimated to have been at least thirty-eight miles an hour. When both motors were in operation it easily outdistanced the numerous steamers laden with observers that followed on the lake.

Count Zeppelin, who is 69 years of age, was in command of the airship which bears his name. He had with him two assistants and a crew of seven men to run the motors. The airship executed the most diverse evolutions with the greatest ease.

"Take your own time," remarked the pawnbroker as the fellow came to redeem his watch.

COLD WEATHER

May Nevillie Wins.

In the 2:35 trot, there were four starters, five failing to appear, and forfeiting their entrance money. Dorothy R. started out at the pole, but soon relinquished it to May Nevillie, who was never headed, and came under the wire a good first, with lame Jim Fisk second, and Dorothy R. third, presing Jim Fisk. In the remaining heats May Nevillie was not headed, and trotted home twice, taking first money. The battle for place lay between Grace Birchwood and Jim Fisk, in which Fisk received second money, after a hard drive in the second heat. In the third the Fisk horse came last, while Grace Birchwood was second. Barring breaks this little brown mare would have been near the front and probably have taken the money.

The best time for the race was 2:24, eleven seconds faster than the class. The remaining heats were made within two seconds of this time, although May Nevillie was not pushed to the limit.

Best Race of Day.

The 2:16 pace was the race of the afternoon. Star P. started with the pole, but Creston took it at the first turn, and came across the wire first, with Rollins making a game fight for the place. The next heat saw Rollins and Creston team the first three quarters, when Rollins gradually drew away, and came in first. Bessie Ross and Creston had a finish drive for second in which Bessie Ross won, Creston coming in third.

Rollins and Creston again started the third heat in the same manner, and Rollins won in a drive. Creston was able to beat out Bessie Ross in another drive, which put the spectators on edge.

Bessie Ross to Front.

A surprise was sprung in the fourth heat. It was the same start, Rollins and Bessie Ross teaming at the start. For the three first half they led, with Bessie Ross coming close behind, a third. On the back stretch, Bessie Ross passed the field, and Rollins broke. Bessie Ross came home an easy first, while Creston was second and Rollins third. Rollins did not catch his feet until the wire was passed, galloping the entire last quarter. On the home stretch he fouled Creston, and was put last for the work. Star P., and Bobolink, who were contenders for last place, were distanced in this heat.

The last heat saw the gamies' drive of all by Rollins. Bessie Ross and Creston were off at the start. The three horses, now alone in the race, well well bunched. At the first quarter Rollins broke, and lost several lengths. To the spectators it looked as though he was beaten, for Creston and Bessie Ross were making a runaway race of it. In an admirable drive, Rollins caught the flying leaders at the three quarters, and finished an easy second behind Bessie Ross.

Rollins was awarded first money, Bessie Ross, second, and Creston, third.

Track Dust.

Dr. F. E. Stone, Burlington, Wis., who has been following the Great Western circuit the entire season, is acting as starting judge. He is well liked by the crowd, making the drivers score on the first or second attempt, and sending the horses away. Quick work in scoring is liked by the crowd, and the present starter brings it about. The starts yesterday were all good and secured quickly.

J. H. Bottger, H. E. Raymond, and W. H. Kennan, all horsemen with steeds entered in the coming race, acted as judges yesterday. There were few complaints and these were settled quickly and amicably.

The timers were W. H. Steadman, C. O. Walker and H. W. Palmer, horsemen, with horses entered.

HAPPY MARRIAGES.

Value of the Spirit of Compromise In Wedded Life.

If marriage meant the wedding of a saint and an angel there would be no problems to solve, no perfections to attain, no progress to make. This may be why there are no marriages in heaven.

On earth it is different. Husband and wife are strongly human. No matter how lovingly united or how sweet their accord, they never have the same temperaments, tendencies or tastes.

Their needs are different, their manner of looking at things is not identical and in varying ways their individualities assert themselves. At any critical moment if both express at the same time a desire to defer to the other's taste the result is foreordained—happiness. This makes matrimony not merely union, but unison and unity.

The spirit of compromise does not mean a continuous performance in the way of self surrender and self sacrifice; it does not mean ceasing to be a voice and becoming an echo; it does not imply or justify the loss of individuality. It means simply the instinctive recognition of the best way out of a difficulty, the quickest tacking to avoid a collision, the kindly view of tolerance in the presence of weakness and errors of another, the courage to meet an explanation half way, the generosity to be first to apologize for a discord, the largeness of mind that does not fear a sacrifice of dignity in surrendering in the interests of the highest harmony of the two rather than the personal vanity.—Delineator.

ALWAYS CHEERFUL.

Even When He Lost Both Feet He Could Find Consolation.

Brown's cheerfulness was a source of wonder and admiration to his friends, according to the Ladies' Home Journal. Either his religion or his philosophy taught him to accept everything as a wise dispensation. But then he had a large share of worldly goods, his friends argued, and nothing but adversity would shake his faith.

Therefore when a promising crop was washed away by a flood the neighbors were much astonished to hear him say: "It's all for the best. I was blessed with an overabundance last year."

In the winter his house was burned to the ground. To his neighbors' solicitations he calmly responded, "The house never suited us anyway, so it is all for the best."

Other calamities befell Brown, but still he refused to be disheartened.

The climax came when he was in a railroad accident. Both feet were so badly crushed that amputation was necessary.

Sympathetic friends gathered from all quarters. They dreaded to hear the lamentations they were sure would greet them, for even Brown could hardly be expected to pass this lightly by.

"Guess you are pretty well discouraged, aren't you, with both feet cut off?" ventured some one. "Do you think this is all for the best?"

But Brown nodded his head, smiling wanly, and said:

"They were always cold anyway!"

Unprofitable Adam.

There is occasion for much beating about the bush for answers to many questions put by wise theologues to timid people, but one set of men found their match in the old Scotchwoman under examination for admission to church fellowship.

"What are the decrees of God?" she was solemnly asked.

"Indeed, I trow, he kens that best himsel'."

"What kind of a man was Adam?"

"Ou, just like ither fouk!" was the quick reply.

The questioner insisted on a more definite answer. "Weel," said she, "he was just like Jeems Madden, ye ken."

"How so?"

"Weel, naebody got anything by him, and mony lost."

Curios.

Mr. Chow has a passion for curios, but was not able to distinguish a genuine article from a spurious one. One day a dealer came to him wishing to sell the lacquer bowl of Emperor Shun (B. C. 2255), the rod with which the Duke of Chow (about B. C. 1122) flogged Pak Kam, and the mat on which Confucius sat (B. C. 551). Mr. Chow sold all his worldly possessions and purchased them. Holding the bowl in his left hand, clutching the rod in his right hand and carrying the mat upon his back, he went around begging for a copper coin of King Woo (B. C. 1122).—From the Chinese.

Naturally.

Two men met at the gate of the cemetery, and each with excessive politeness bowed to the other to pass in before him. After a few minutes of this, when neither would give way, the younger of the two smiled and said:

"You are the elder of the two, so naturally you ought to go first."—Sourire.

Meekness is one virtue that never seems properly distributed; the commander of an army may possess it to a degree, but you never see a Pullman porter thus endowed

LANDIS DON'T WANT TO BE PRESIDENT

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Judge Landis has given a death blow to the politicians who plan to boom him for the democratic nomination, as a result of his record in the Standard Oil case. Judge Landis says: "To accept political preferment as a reward for anything I might do on the bench is to impeach my integrity as a man and my honor as a judge."

KILLED IN FIGHT OVER A WOMAN

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Robert Dennis of Riverdale shot and killed Randolph Strong, 167 Nineteenth street, and slightly wounded William M. Pope in a fight over a woman at 150 Seventeenth street. Pope was hit by a bullet which apparently was intended for Annie White, who was the cause of the trouble between Dennis and Strong. Dennis was arrested in the alley in the rear of the place while attempting to escape.

RYAN IS NAMED FOR FRICO MAYOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 25.—Daniel A. Ryan has been nominated for mayor by the republican city convention by a vote of 143 against 45 for Mayo rTaylor. It is believed Mayor Taylor will be nominated by the democratic convention next week.

William H. Langdon was nominated for district attorney to succeed himself.

"PINK" HAWLEY TO BE INVESTIGATED

PRESIDENT OF LEAGUE TO PROBE CHARGES

EXONERATE OR EXPEL HIM

Says He Intends to See to it That Director McCarthy of Freeport Is Duly Ousted

"Pink" Hawley, manager of the La Crosse baseball team, and the guiding hand which won the pennant in the Wisconsin league twice, is to be investigated by President Charles Moll, of the league. This is the information given out by President Moll in a jaunt to La Crosse yesterday and hurried departure.

The charge is that Manager Hawley approached Freeport men, and offered to throw the pennant for $500. The charge, preposterous as it is, will be investigated, and the author punished. Various other charges from Freeport, affecting La Crosse, have emanated during the last three seasons of the league, but each one has proven groundless. Now President Moll proposes to make Freeport suffer if guilty.

"Thisis a most serious charge," said President Moll, "and we intend to run it to earth. If Hawley is guilty he will be expelled from organized baseball, but if he is not, we will see to it that those who instigated the charge get their just dues. Hawley has always been an aggressive manager, but even though he has sometimes carried his aggressiveness too far, he has never before been accused of using underhand methods. It is the duty of the league to see to it that Hawley is either punished or exonerated.

"I also intend to ask the resignation of Director McCarthy of the Freeport club. McCarthy was one of the prime movers of the riot in connection with the La Crosse game last week, and, according to witnesses, played an important part in the battle."

According to official figures issued by President Moll, Freeport finished the season two and one-half games ahead of Wausau, its nearest competitor. Freeport won seventy-nine games and lost forty-one, and Wausau won seventy-six and lost forty-three. Thus far there have been no formal protests entered against Freeport, although several have been threatened.

The league, according to Moll, enjoyed a prosperous season. All the teams with one or two exceptions made money, and those which did finish behind lost very little. At least they are willing to try it again, for every club in the league has sent its protection fee for next year to Secretary Farrel of the National association. This contradicts the stories which have been circulated to the effect that there will be a change in the state league circuit next season.

VERDICT OF $8,000 AGAINST DREDGERS

LA CROSSE COMPANY MUST PAY ENORMOUS SUM

JOHN ENGLE WINS HIS CASE

La Crosse Dredging Company Will Likely Carry Winona Case Into the Supreme Court.

It will cost the La Crosse Dredging company or the indemnity company which protects them, the sum of $8,000 to settle with John Engler, who had one of his legs broken and received serious injuries while working as an engineer on one of the company's machines near Welcome, Minn., last spring.

The case which was on trial for a full week in the Winona district court has been concluded and yesterday afternoon the jury returned a verdict of $8,000 for the plaintiff.

The sum of $15,000 was asked for by Engler.

The case went to trial Tuesday, Sept. 17, and was not concluded until 9:40 yetserday morning when Judge Snow delivered his charge to the jury. The jury retired at once and did not bring in their verdict until 3:40 yesterday afternoon awarding Engler damages to the amount of $8,000.

It is believed that the case will be taken to the supreme court.

ESCH SAYS COMMISSIONERS WILL BARELY STOP

HAS WRITTEN TO BURTON

Congressman Expects Reply From Chairman, But Does Not Anticipate Program Planned.

In regard to a reception committee to greet the waterways commission when they stop at the La Crosse levee Saturday morning on board the Colonel McKenzie, Congressman Esch said today:

"I did not believe that any program would be prepared for the visit here as I supposed that it would be of very short duration. I understand that the boat will just make a short stop here, that no one will leave the boat, and that they will then go on down the river.

"I have written to Chairman Theodore Burton of Cleveland, Ohio, who is to let me know what program has been prepared for La Crosse.

"The party is now on the Great Lakes on their way to Duluth, from there they will go overland to St. Paul to board the Colonel McKenzie and go down river as far as Keokuk, where a transfer will be made upon board the Lily, upon which the company will remain until the completion of the trip."

OLE STOREY IN CITY FOR FAIR

WESTERN LUMBERMAN FORMER LA CROSSE RESIDENT

IS NOW A MILLIONAIRE

Says West Is Preparing to Fight the Advance in Lumber Rates Which Has Crippled Industry

Ole Storey, the western lumberman, formerly a resident of North La Crosse, and now owner of an electric street railway between Eugene and Springfield, and also a stockholder in the Willamette and Central Oregon railway, arrived in the city yesterday at 1 o'clack accompanied by his wife and two children, and surprised a number of his friends by appearing before them at the fairgrounds yesterday afternoon.

He is in the best of health and has been employed most of the time in responding to hearty hand-shakes.

He expects to be in the city about a month.

Mr. Storey left La Crosse seevral years ago and soon developed a booming umber business in the west at Cascade Locks, Oregon. He is president of the electric street railway which operates between Eugene and Springfield and also owns a railroad which has been constructed from the Wilamette valley, east, up to the McKenzie river. This is to be extended so as to reach central Oregon. A large crew of men are now engaged in completing the road which will facilitate the lumber business in that vicinity to a great extent.

When asked as to the prospects of the lumber business in the west, President Storey replied:

"The lumber inlustry is now in bad shape on account of the recent advance of 10 cents per 100 pounds in the freight rate. The business has been badly crippled and the lumber business of the west is therefore at present practically at a standstill.

"The entire west has united in an effort to have the rate reduced again and half a million dollars has been appropriated by the cities of the various states interested for legal action to reduce the rate which has formerly been 40 cents toMinneapolis, and 5[illegible] cents to Chciago."

On acount of the large earning capacity of the railroad it is deemed that the raise in rates is not reasonable and the matter will be taken up by the interstate commerce commission which will no doubt set a reasonable rate.

Up to the time of the advance in rates the enormous business of the numerous railroads was beyond comprehension and this is no doubt the reason for the increase in rates.

The matter will be brought to a legal show down and will be fought to its bitter end, and on acount of the large earnings of the railroads the commerce commission will no doubt readily enforce regulations upon the railroads to reduce the rates.

Mr. Storey is stopping at Hotel Stoddard.

AT THE BIJOU.

At the Bijou Edgar Foreman and his company made the big hit of the evening in "The First Quarrel." In this meritorious skit several good songs are introduced, among them one entitled "Things That Gold Cannot Buy," the prettiest descriptive song heard here this season. Mr. Foreman proved himself to be a comedian of much ability and won his audience from the start, who showed their appreciation by continual roars of laughter and rounds of applause. More acts of this high standard are sadly needed in vaudeville theaters throughout the country.

The list of signatures will soon be completed and the petition turned over to Mr. Esch in a short time.
